

Which you will for a Half-penny,
Golden Rennets.

JUST by St. Andrew's hill,

Sir, for a Half-penny which y
The noisy Apple-women cry
To all who busily pass by.
Apples in towers pil'd up be
With rinds as clear and pure
But if their goodness you'd a
Pray taste and try before yo